

TEAM-BUILDING

FUN

The philosopher Bergson said that laughter is unique to man. And every good educationalist will tell you that you never learn better while having fun.

Why not mix the useful and the pleasant together, to learn to know each other or to know oneself better by means of games, that will make you burst into laughter as there are :

*The game of the swing
The tower of the boxes
The multiski
The relay race in rafting on the pond
The kayak polo
The gymkhana with MB
The impossible climbing*

*The game of the blind
The game of the nail
The obstacle course
The archery or raffle shooting with handicap
The throw of the bundle of hay
The night dropping in team
